

ZEBULON WADE.

[To accompany bill H. R. No. 288.]

JANUARY 19, 1832.

Mr. BURGESS, from the Committee on Invalid Pensions, made the following

REPORT:

The Committee on Invalid Pensions, to whom was referred the petition of Zebulon Wade, report:

That the petitioner was a seaman on board the United States' revenue cutter Despatch; and, while in the line of his duty, and acting under the command of the Captain of said cutter, his right arm was shattered by the accidental discharge of a cannon, and, in consequence thereof was amputated. This occurrence happened March 4, 1809. Although the pension laws do not extend to persons in the revenue service, the committee believe this to be a case wherein the liberality of the Government may justly be extended to the unfortunate individual who has suffered so severely in ~~its~~ service, and therefore report a bill.
